

TIME:Commercial Long Income | Investor Q&A

Date: 12 March 2021

Suspension lifting and resumption of dealing - TIME:Commercial Long Income has lifted its suspension and is now available for subscriptions and redemptions, with its first daily dealing day being Tuesday 16 March 2021, with a cut-off of 10am.

Why was the Fund suspended?

Dealing in the Fund was temporarily suspended in March 2020 due to its independent valuer including a material uncertainty clause into their property valuations, caused by the outbreak of COVID-19. This was in common with all registered property valuers in the UK at the time. On 30 September 2020 material uncertainty was removed by the independent valuer. However, the Authorised Corporate Director (ACD) and the Depositary had, in accordance with FCA rules, agreed to maintain the suspension of the Fund from 30 September 2020 on the basis of liquidity risk and to notify the FCA thereof.

What has led to the Fund being able to lift its suspension?

During the period of the suspension, we have conducted a substantial number of very positive discussions with existing and prospective investors regarding the performance of the Fund and the robust attributes of the long income asset class. To allow the Fund to reopen with a prudent level of liquidity, the Fund identified around £90 million of net property disposals. These disposals included the sale of the Fund's largest asset and the only office within its portfolio, which was sold ahead of valuation, and completed in early March 2021. The Fund's overall cash levels are expected to have increased to around £130 million or 29% of its net assets as at 15 March 2021 and as a result, the ACD and the Depositary have agreed to lift the suspension on dealing in the shares of the Fund (and in the units of its dedicated feeder trust, ARC TIME Commercial Long Income Feeder Trust) and have notified the FCA of this decision.

Are you intending to sell any more properties at present?

No. The liquidity achieved through the proceeds from the assets identified for sale is considered sufficient to meet the level of expected redemptions upon reopening. There is no intention to sell any further properties, however this remains under constant review.

What has the performance of the Fund been?

The Fund has continued to maintain an impressive performance against the IA Direct Property sector, maintaining a top quartile position over the one, three and five year period to 28 February 2021* and with lower volatility than its peers over this time. Since the Fund was launched it has been managed with the focus on income consistency with capital growth prospects through acquiring property with long leases. This, along with the specific features of long income (including the visibility of income through the high Weighted Average Unexpired Lease Term, married with tenant quality and sector sustainability), are the main reasons for this outperformance.

Throughout the period since the outbreak of COVID-19 in early 2020, the Fund has continued to deliver a consistent income return from its portfolio, despite the unprecedented challenges faced throughout the UK. Since August 2020 the Fund has had seven successive months of positive performance. During the last six months the Fund's total return has increased by 1.70% (based on the Class A Gross Accumulation shares). The Fund's performance for the twelve months to 28 February 2021 has been -0.75%, +8.83% over the last 3 years and +20.46% over the last 5 years.

What is the liquidity position of the Fund?

The Fund expects to reopen with cash reserves of around 29% of its net asset value ("NAV") (£130 million). It is anticipated that this level of liquidity would enable the Fund to reopen and meet its expected level of redemptions and thereafter to operate normally and meet its investment objective. The Fund's liquidity is reviewed at each dealing day.

Does the Fund have any liquidity management tools within its Prospectus?

Yes. The Fund primarily invests in inherently illiquid assets, being UK real estate. In order to protect the interests of our existing shareholders, the Fund has a number of tools it can apply. These liquidity management tools and the consequences for shareholders are set out in Clause 25 of the Prospectus and detailed below:

Dilution adjustment /Swing price	When the Fund is in net subscriptions and buying property, it is typically priced on offer i.e. NAV + costs of property acquisitions. Should the Fund experience large redemptions requiring it to sell property, it may 'swing' to 'Bid' (NAV less the cost of selling property) or simply to NAV. The total swing from offer to bid is typically 5%-7%.
Large Deal Provision	It is possible, in certain circumstances, to effect instructions (expressly where the value of those instructions exceed £50,000) for subscriptions or redemptions of shares on a different pricing basis to the published price. The ACD also has the discretion to have such large deals refused until such time as there is no prejudicial impact to the best interests of shareholders. The large deal provision looks to reflect the cost of buying or selling a property.
Redemption charge	Charge on the redemption of such shares of up to 5%.
Market timing charge	Where a particular shareholder has engaged in short-term trading, effect a charge of up to 3% if a redemption is made within 180 days of the original subscription.
Deferral of redemptions	Where requested redemptions received across all classes of a fund for a particular dealing day exceed 10% of the NAV, the ACD may defer redemptions to the next dealing day.
Refusal of redemptions	The ACD may reject in its discretion any application for the purchase, redemption, transfer or conversion of Shares. This would be deployed for a whole range of reasons including to protect liquidity of the fund or other reasonable grounds.
Suspension of Dealing	Always available.

Please refer to the Fund's Prospectus published on our website for the full detail (specifically Clause 25 covering dealing charges and suspension).

When can these liquidity tools be used?

They may be used at any time where the ACD considers it is in the best interests of the shareholders to do so, in order to protect investors' interests (those coming in and out of the Fund as well as those who are remaining invested). In simple terms, during periods of consistent subscriptions or redemptions, certain tools are used when it is believed that there may be a need to buy or sell properties and therefore incur the associated transaction costs. These tools ensure that relevant subscribing or redeeming investors bear their proportion of the cost of buying or selling a property.

Do you intend to use a liquidity management tool on the Fund's resumption of dealing on 16 March 2021?

Yes. In order to ensure we are treating our shareholders fairly we intend to utilise the dilution adjustment. The Fund, therefore, is swinging its price from 'Offer' pricing to NAV. The impact of this will be a single downward movement of circa 4.6% on the price.

Can you explain the pricing basis of TIME:Commercial Long Income?

The Fund is priced with a single price and may apply a dilution adjustment. When the Fund is in net subscriptions and buying property, it is typically priced on 'Offer' (NAV + costs of property acquisitions). Should the Fund experience a period of redemptions requiring it to sell property, it may 'swing' to 'Bid' (NAV less the cost of selling property) or simply to NAV. For more detail, please refer to our 'Guide to the Dilution Adjustment'.

Why has the ACD chosen to use the dilution adjustment?

Given the period of suspension and expected period of redemptions, the Fund has made a number of property sales to achieve a prudent level of liquidity to reopen. Unless a dilution adjustment is applied, redeeming shareholders would not bear their share of the associated property transaction costs and these costs would otherwise be borne by the Fund and its remaining shareholders. The use of the dilution adjustment is the most clear and transparent tool that ensures that the Fund is acting in the best interest of shareholders.

How is the swing price level calculated?

The swing of the price has been calculated based on the weighted property acquisition costs of the portfolio being reduced from the price of the shares of the Fund.

Why is the Fund's price moving to NAV?

During the period of suspension, the Fund has increased liquidity through the sale of a number of properties. The associated transaction costs have therefore been borne and are reflected in the NAV price. Given the level of liquidity created in the Fund and the expected redemptions, it is not anticipated that further property sales will be required at this time.

In what circumstance would the Fund's price move from NAV to 'Bid'?

In the event that we have to sell further properties to meet redemptions beyond current cash levels, then it is likely we would need to swing the price fully down to 'Bid'. This additional swing could be circa 1%.

In what circumstance would the Fund's price move from NAV back up to 'Offer'?

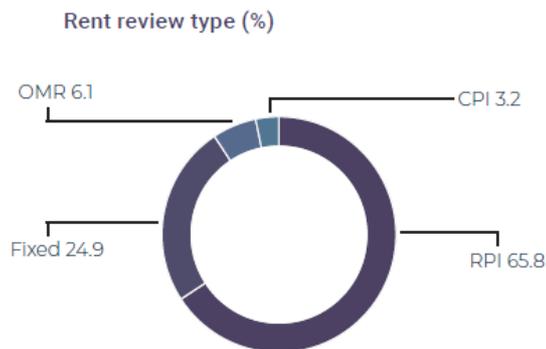

When the Fund returns to a steady state of net subscriptions and is anticipating acquiring further property, it would expect to swing back up to 'Offer'.

What is the outlook for the Fund?

Following the completion of its property sales and acquisitions over the last 24 months the Fund has shifted its sector exposure, with the logistics sector now the largest within the property portfolio at 27%, and no exposure to the office sector. The Fund has never had exposure to the more at-risk sectors such as high street retail and shopping centres.

The Weighted Average Unexpired Lease Term ("WAULT") of the portfolio is 47 years which results in significantly greater visibility of income than in traditional commercial property, and hence the name, long income. In a period where rental growth in many sectors of traditional commercial property remains uncertain, one of the key features of long income is the comfort provided by structured rent reviews as compared to open market reviews traditionally associated with commercial property. Within the portfolio 94% of the rent reviews are indexed linked or have a fixed percentage growth. It is worth noting that the portfolio currently has no voids.

The Fund and its property portfolio are well positioned, and we anticipate the positive performance in property values to continue, with an annualised income return of between 3% and 3.5% over the next couple of quarters, with that income return growing later in the year and into 2022. However, if the Fund does not receive the anticipated level of redemptions, its return will be impacted by the higher weighting of cash.

The Fund's investment objective and policy has remained unchanged and the Fund will continue to pay distributions in the normal manner every quarter.
